Please do not trample on sex-based rights!

As part of the LGBT community, I've watched what has been going on in our community, and it's not pretty. Look to the UK, where founders of the first gay rights (as we called it then) organization have broken off to form the new LGB Alliance. This new LGB-only group has earned charity status, and at the same time, the old group is floundering and losing government and public support.

This doesn't need to happen here. We can support trans people, without redefining biology, forcing awkward language ("birthing parent"), medicalizing children, and placing males into women's places.

Thank you,
