A woman is an adult human female. Any other definition is sexist.

We do not allow white people to wear blackface and be receive protections in law for race. Why are men being allowed to be sent to women's prisons, compete in women's sports, shoehorn themselves into lesbian's spaces, because they "feel" like women? What does being a woman "feel" like? How can a man know when it's something they've never been?

As a woman and lesbian, I am tired of our spaces being colonized by straight men playing dress-up. One search of "where have the lesbian bars gone" shows just how dramatically queer and trans ideologies have impacted our communities. Women aren't allowed to make female-only gatherings anymore lest they be called "transphobic" and banned, silenced.

Ignoring sex is not the great, progressive step forward most people think it is. What we need instead is for bullying of gender nonconforming children to stop, so that these children feel more okay with just being themselves in their own bodies.

Thank you.
