Subject: Fairness for my daughter

My name is Hector Sanchez, my parents both from Mexico came to this country in the 60's to seek more fair opportunities in work and society.

Today my family and I enjoy the fruits of their labor. Both my son and daughter play basketball in school, my son—going into the 7th grade—is younger and shorter than my daughter—who will be a sophomore this year.

My daughter plays as a bench player. If my son had an opportunity to play on my daughters team she would surely not have any opportunity to play. Although shorter he plays better and is definitely stronger. Where is the fairness in that? Where is the fairness my parents thought they were buying into as immigrants?

I'm confused why this is even an issue we are debating today? Boys are made up differently.
