I am writing to implore the Department of Education to continue to protect the sex-based rights of females in schools. Female children and adults are still subject to harassment, exclusion, fear, and dehumanization on the basis of their sex. Harassment and intimidation can take the form of sexual comments, touching, voyeurism, males exposing their genitals to us in private and public spaces, and threats of sexual violence. Females are vulnerable when we use toilets because we do not have a choice about whether or not we want to remove articles of clothing. We must. There have been many instances in which lack of private and protected spaces for females resulted in them avoiding school. Please continue to protect private female spaces in schools. The devaluing and degradation of female bodies has also been the reason we've been discriminated against in sports. We must preserve sex-based protections in sports as well. Thank you for your time and consideration.
