Please know that I am voicing concerns to respect parental rights of our children and protect all school children. I am AGAINST adopting the proposed changes in Title IX into the US Department of Education system.

Sexual orientation and gender identity instruction is the sole right of each parent and family. I feel it's the same with critical race theory. Respect for ALL people should be taught - and modeled - in the home. It should never be a right of teachers or the US Government to assume and usurp the role of the parents.

Respectfully,
Jessie Reinhardt
