As a mother of two young women in public universities, I am quite concerned that biological males would be allowed access to women only facilities and sports.

Given the premise that "gender is fluid," what would prevent the scenario of my daughter, in a pool shower room, having a biological male, feeling feminine, walk in and 'magically' feel male, assault my daughter, and leave feeling feminine once more.

Alternatively, a feminine, biological male competing in female sports will still possess a greater muscle mass enabling that person to outperform and, possibly, injure a biological female.

It is madness to allow biological males into women only facilities and sports. I object to any regulations that would allow or mandate such actions.

Respectfully,
