Deadline 5pm Est TODAY!!☐

Trans females and trans males should compete together in their OWN CATEGORY!!☐ Trans Sports!☐

It is truly unfair to expect them to compete as equals outside of their own category. When laws were passed to protect women and give them an equal chance in sports, there were no trans people to consider.

But now that there are, you should fairly make a new category, institute a new practice so that trans people compete with with other MJ trans people instead of having to make do with other categories.

And since there are many who contend that hormones even out the differences between female and male, then trans females and trans males will be equal because they're both taking hormones. It's only logical that they compete together.

Please do the fair thing and create a new category just for trans people - only with each other.

If not, why not?
