Concerning Title IX, this will do nothing to protect our children from discrimination, rather it will endanger and confuse our youth. This is foolish, dangerous, and evil. To punish our children in the name of "social progress" is an abomination and a shame to our nation. I fear this comment, like thousands and thousands of others like it, will only fall on deaf ears, or simply be deleted/ignored, but I must try to get through this ideological nonsense. I am one of millions of parents who pulled their kids out of the public school system last year in response to policies such as those being enacted according to this horrific executive order, and I will continue to stand up to the indoctrination and abuse of our American children in this way.
